Understanding Your Eating Triggers

Do certain situations, moods, or times of day prompt you to overeat?
Use these ideas to help overcome common eating triggers.

Trigger: You Can't Resist Junk Food

- Don't keep junk food at home
- Eat three meals every day
- Wait 15 to 30 minutes — the craving may pass (really!)
- Try healthier versions, such as baked rather than regular chips

Trigger: Exercise Makes You Hungry

- Most research has shown that exercise actually decreases physical hunger
- If you exercise after work, plan to eat lunch 3-4 hours before your workout
- Drink plenty of water before, during, and after your workout

Trigger: You Eat Too Much While Socializing With Friends

- Eat something healthy before going to social activities
- Drink water or a calorie-free beverage instead of having a snack
- Treat yourself to only one or two samples of high-calorie or fatty foods
- Take some healthy foods to social events
